by falling of the abutments to Broad Street bridge, Newark.—The Montclair Reform Club rent the Morris Homestead on Bloomfield Avenue, and commence alterations for Club headquarters. The lower floor to be used for a cheap restaurant and coffee house.—The German Evangelical Sabbath-school Association of the County held its seventh anniversary with interesting exercises.—26.— The Twenty-seventh Annual Session of the Newark M. E. Church commenced at the Halsey Street Church, Newark at 10 A. M.—Hon. Cortland Parker's name spoken of as a delegate at large to the Republican National Convention at Chicago.—26.—Assemblyman F. S.
Fish, of Newark, ordered seated by Speaker Stoney, and on his refusal to obey, the Sergeant-at-Arms was ordered to eject him, which he failed to do. At the evening session the Democratic majority of the Assembly passed a caucus resolution, renaming Mr. Fish.—Messrs. Fielder and Trotter, two of New Jersey's Representatives in Congress, refuse to attend the Democratic tariff caucus. Mr. McAdoo, the Representative from Hudson Co., spoke earnestly against the measure, prophesying that if a free trade issue were assumed the State would be lost to the Democrats.—A largely attended meeting of manufacturers interested in movements held at the Newark Board of Trade Rooms to protest against the

ABOUT TOWN.

—Snakes and frogs have already made their appearance in the low grounds.
—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wey sail to-day for Europe, where they will spend the summer.
—Mr. Uzal T. Hayes and wife, of Middletown, N. Y., were in town several days this week.
—Mr. H. M. Vantassel has returned from a visit of several days in South Jersey. He says he "had a first-class time."
—The new Road Committee are giving the best of attention to the bad places in the streets, caused by the frost.
—Mr. T. Winsor Langstroth, who has been for some years in the employ of the London Assurance Association, has been appointed Agent of the Company for Bloomfield and Montclair. His card may be found in another column.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, mother to Mrs. James R. Zabriskie, died on Tuesday morning in the 88th year of her age, after a lingering illness.

—The concert which was repeated at the Watessing M. E. Church, on Monday evening, was well attended, and was a success financially and otherwise.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Episcopal Church has compiled a Cook Book, which, for the moderate sum of ten cents, gives between fifty and sixty thoroughly tested recipes. "The L. A. S.
Selection of Practical Receipts" is on sale at Dancer's and the drug stores.

—Boys should be prohibited from riding on the sidewalks with velocipedes.
The practice is daily increasing as the weather grows milder, and the danger to small children and pedestrians are subjected is greater than an orange or banana skin on a wet day.

—Charles Heckel, of the firm of R. E.
Heckel & Sons, was united in marriage on Wednesday evening to Miss Jessie Culberson, daughter of Henry Culberson, Jr., of Grove Street, East Orange. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. Dr. Hed-den, of Peekskill, N. Y. About fifty guests were present.

—About two years ago Mr. and Mrs.
George Cyphers, of Bloomfield, went to Lemars, Iowa, where Mr. Cyphers had found employment as a mason. Recently Mrs. Cyphers was taken ill, the sickness resulting in her death on March 20th.
The remains were brought to Newark, where the funeral services were held on Thursday the 27th, taking place from the residence of George M. Lloyd, No.
230 High Street at two o'clock, and the Eighth Avenue M. E. Church at 2:30.
The services were largely attended by many friends from Bloomfield and Newark.

—On Tuesday evening the Rhetorical exhibition of the Academic Department of the German Theological School was given to a large and select audience in the lecture room of the Seminary.
The orations were well delivered, and the subjects clearly stated and well developed. Below is the programme complete.

Music	Prof. Piderit, Piano.
	Prof. Ebeling, Violin.
Prayer	Rev. Chas. E. Knox, D. D.
Music	Instrumental.
Oration, "Secret of Success."	Henry Hausman, Jr.
Oration, "Die Johanniter."	George H. Miller.
Music, Piano Solo.	Prof. Piderit.
Oration, "Christianity Essential to Good Government."	George C. Mueller.
Oration, "Die Wahl des Berufs ("The Choice of the Calling)."	Frederick C. Stoeckle.
Music	Benediction.

Meeting of School Trustees.
A Special Meeting of the Board of Education was held on Monday evening for the purpose of organization.
On motion, Mr. Chabrier Peloubet was made Chairman, and William A. Baldwin, District Clerk. The Committees were named, and are the same as during the past year:

On Teachers,	Dr. Wm. H. White, Chabrier Peloubet.
On Buildings,	Thomas Oakes, Edmund A. Smith.
On Supplies,	John Sherman, Wm. A. Baldwin.

The plans of the new school building were presented, and the specifications read. Some corrections were made, after which the Committee on New Buildings were directed to give them out to carpenters and masons for estimates, to be opened at a future meeting of the Board.

The Teachers' Institute.

The programme for the Teachers' Institute, to be held in Bloomfield on Friday and Saturday of next week, is not yet issued; but the proceedings promise to be of unusual interest, to the public as well as to the Teachers. State Superintendent Angar and other distinguished educators will be present and take part in the exercises. On Friday evening, Mr.
Phoebus W. Lyon will deliver his address on the Anglo-Russian problem in Asia.
The map which he has prepared is of itself a lecture. As all of the meetings are open, and the lectures are free, it is hoped that the people of Bloomfield and vicinity will accept the cordial invitation tendered them.

Mr. Maxfield's Latest Sale of Jersey Cattle.

On Tuesday and Wednesday an important sale of Jersey cattle was held at the American horse exchange. The herd was imported by Mr. J. F. Maxfield of Bloomfield. Very good prices were obtained, some of the animals fetching high figures. Ethelfield, a three-year-old cow, was sold for $2200; Tale Bearer, $800; Creamer, $725, etc. One of the most valuable cows in the herd died soon after her arrival in this country.

Republican Meeting.

The Republican voters of Bloomfield Township are requested to meet in Upper Library Hall on Wednesday, April 2, 1884, at 8 P. M., for the purpose of organizing and making such other arrangements as may seem necessary for the approaching fall campaign.

CHARLES M. DAVIS,
Pres. Repub. Club.
WINTHROP JONES,
Secretary.

ANOTHER TIDAL WAVE. The Temperance Work in Bloom- field.

The promise of success given by the first Temperance Meeting a week ago Wednesday night has been fulfilled. The attendance at the meetings has been large, and the interest and enthusiasm most gratifying. Library Hall has been crowded nearly every night. Over twelve hundred have signed the pledge. Men addicted to drink have been reclaimed.
Moderate drinkers have become total abstainers. Temperance people have been strengthened in their principles.
One prominent feature of the movement has been the signing of the pledge by many who have been strictly temperate, and who did not need to commit themselves publicly for their own sake, but who, in view of their influence, have placed their names to the pledge.

The Sunday afternoon meeting was one of peculiar interest. Only men were invited to attend. The body of the Hall was well filled, about five hundred men being present. At this meeting Mr. Mabee gave an account of his life. He expressed himself in a manly, straightforward, honest manner. The whole tone of the address was different from what sometimes is heard from men who in public seem to "glory in their past shame." The intent of his remarks was plainly to encourage men bound in the chains of a fatal habit to look to Heaven for help and to put forth the earnest effort to break away from their cruel bondage. The impression was deep and solemn. If any who listened to his words had questioned of heartily sanctioning his present work, their doubts gave way to earnest approval. Mr. Mabee declined to give the history of his life before a general meeting, expressing himself as wishing to say as little about it as possible, unless the recital might be the means of doing special good.

A Reform Club was organized at the Sunday afternoon meeting. Over one hundred enrolled their names. One hundred and ninety have since become members, making a total of 290. The officers chose are:

President, Henry Russell.
First Vice-President, Herbert Bid-dolph.
Second Vice-President, Lyman Clapper.
Third Vice-President, Jas. Ferguson.
Recording Secretary, David P. Lyall.
Financial Secretary, J. P. Jones.
Treasurer, Wm. Colfax.
Steward, Geo. Walker.
First Marshal, Jos. Peloubet.
Second Marshal, Jas. H. Way.
Sergeant at Arms, John Kane.

The Executive and Financial Committees are yet to be selected. These Committees will have a most responsible part in the work of the Club. Doubtless good names will be selected. The officers already chosen are approved men. The choice of President meets with universal favor. Mr. Russell is an earnest, consensuous, just man, who throws his whole nature into whatever he undertakes. He will have the support of all good citizens.
The name of Reform Club has been objected to, but the objection is met by the explanation that it signifies Reform work to be done.

On Wednesday afternoon a Woman's Christian Temperance Union was formed.
This Society will contribute much to the success of the Temperance work in the place. The officers are:
President, Mrs. Martha Batchelder.
First Vice-President, Miss Gertie Dodd.
Second Vice-President, Miss Phoebe Pierson.
Corresponding Secretary, Miss Maggie Earle.
Recording Secretary, Miss Annie Moore.
Treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Stone.

The selections are admirable. Among so many good men and women in Bloomfield it is not difficult to choose efficient officers.

In meeting the expenses of the work in Bloomfield a simple plan has been followed. The Committee of Pastors of the churches, representing the citizens of the village, assumed the expense of the Hall.
The gentlemen having the renting of this have been very courteous and generous, allowing its use at almost a nominal sum; charging not more than one-fourth of the usual price, and scarcely more than enough to cover the actual cost of its opening and warming. Collections have been taken, which were allowed to Messrs. Mabee and English for their expenses. The Committee of Pastors, with the officers of the Reform Club, believing that additional compensation should be given to the speakers, special contribution. This was made on Wednesday night. Upon the appeal of the President of the Club about $130 were contributed.

The work is not to cease with the departure of the Temperance Evangelists.
Library Hall was secured for Friday night, and Mr. Geo. R. Scott, of the Witness, the earnest temperance advocate who is giving much time to this cause, made a ringing address. A meeting will be held to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Reform Club and the W. C. T. U.
Meetings will be continued every Sunday, probably in the afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

It is proposed to secure a hall at once for the permanent use of the Temperance societies. It will be fitted up as a reading room, and will serve, also, for the business meetings of the Club and the Union. This is advised by Mr. Mabee, and will commend itself to the public.
The work will be pushed on neutral ground, so far as the place of meeting is concerned. All sectarianism is to be strictly avoided.

The visit of the Montclair Reform Club—300 strong—on Monday night, attracted much attention. It was met at the depot by the Bloomfield Club and escorted to the Hall. A delegation of the Reform Club from Plainfield was present on another occasion. At both times earnest addresses were made by the visitors.

Not a little interest has been added to the meetings by the music and singing.
Mr. Wm. Burnett, the cornetist, is a fine musician. His wife and Mrs. Mabee are good singers.

The general character of the meetings has been excellent. The addresses of both Mr. Mabee and Mr. English have been varied and fresh. Each night a different phase of the Temperance question has been presented. Mr. Mabee is a clear, forensic speaker. Fact, argument, incidents and wit are blended in his remarks, all being pervaded with an earnest Christian spirit. One of the clergymen—Dr. Farrington—has remarked, with approval, that the need of divine grace has been given its proper place in the appeals made.

Mr. English has been a great favorite with the Bloomfield people. He is an earnest Christian man. Formerly an actor, and then a saloon keeper; but, induced to give up the latter business through the influence of his wife, he became a worker in the Temperance Cause.
He sings and speaks well, generally uniting with homely truths vigorously expressed, humorous anecdotes, clothed often with the Irish brogue which comes to him by birth.

These men, with their associates, have done a good work in Bloomfield. They have given an impetus to future efforts on the part of our people. The prospects are that the aggressive labor will be done, and permanent results for good realized.

The closing meeting under the leadership of Mabee and English, on Thursday night, was termed by them an "experience" meeting. Addresses were called for from different persons, among whom were Mr. John Sanderson and Mr. Percy and Rev. Messrs. Ballantine, Lowrie and Simons. The exercises were interspersed with singing and signing the pledge; and a hearty good-bye was tendered to those who have steadily grown in the favor of the Bloomfield people.

BALLOTS.

WHY MEMORY WEEPS.
As o'er that distant land—the Past.
Fond memory casts her eye.
Why do the bitter tears drop fall?
Why heaves the plaintive sigh?
Is it for vanished friends or hopes She bows in grief so utter?
Ah, no! she mourns she innocence That knew not—bogs butter!

The Fourth of July is an off day with me, said the fire cracker.

Chas. Reade must have had an eye on South Carolina when he wrote "Very Hard Cash."

Now the time of the singing of birds is come, and the sound of the carpet beater will soon be heard in the land.

"Forest and Stream" alleges that alligators like to be talked to. As a general thing garden gaters do too.

The soldier's sweetheart should be like her lover is in time of war, said Blinks of the 7th to his Amelia, always ready to fly to arms.

A bootblack named Mark Anderson was run over and killed by a horsecar in New Orleans recently. Truly "Death loves a shining Mark."

"It is very gratifying to have people look up to me as they do," said the court house clock.

"Yes! but you do not stand as high in the community as I do," pointedly replied the church steeple.

"Madame," said Gruff to his landlady,
"this coffee is like the quality of mercy —it is not strained."
"No," she replied, "but, unlike some boarders, if you want it to settle you must let it alone."

In a letter on women to the Boston Herald, Kate Field sagely remarks:
"There can be found no grand men without grand mothers," and we will go a step further than Kate does, and declare that no men, grand or otherwise, can be found without grandmothers.

These doubts as to the color of the new Others go to detect a fraud. All the same to the showman. "Who enters here leaves the price of admission behind."

Short, while endeavoring to reach a large volume, pulled it down on his head.
Without more ado it was replaced where it came from, Short remarking that it might prove interesting on close perusal, would say it struck him as very heavy
